THE FOURTH OF JULY IN OCALA

In years gone by the celebration of the Fourth of July in Ocala was a notable feature in this city, and large crowds were attracted here. The size of the crowds inspired an enthusiasm, and the attractions gotten up by our public spirited citizens gave a zest and delight to the occasion that lingered for a long time in the memory of the visitors, which placed Ocala in high favor.

In later years we have permitted the occasion to slip by us unhonored and Ocala has been the loser thereby. Ex-Mayor Fishel is making an effort to have the "old times" repeated and has appointed himself a committee of one to interview our people and have them donate a fund to again galvanize the day with new life and live over again the scenes of other days. He has been quite successful in his efforts, and nearly everyone has made a cheerful contribution, and we hope that Mr. Fishel's hands will be held up and the celebration be as successful as those of other days.

A committee appointed to get up a program met at Mr. Fishel's store yesterday afternoon, and we have no doubt that the attractions will be appropriate to the occasion, and will give entertainment to the visitors.

The program is to be a varied one such as will appeal to the tastes of
